Press Release

August, 2010

Intrinsic Perennial Gardens, Inc. is excited to announce a new Japanese Silver Grass. Miscanthus sinensis 'Second Wind' is a re-blooming grass . The initial flowers emerge in early September and after they dry to a fluffy plume a second set of fresh cinnamon red colored flowers bloom underneath toward the end September. These substantial clumping plants have broad foliage with a silver stripe down the middle reaching 7'+ tall and prefer a well drained soil in full sun. Their hardiness is zone 5-9.
